CCISP CCISP is a coalition of faculty from over 30 CUNY institutions who, with the support of the CUNY President and the Board of Trustees, share an interest in enhancing the academic success of all students, especially high-risk and low-income students, and improving teacher-student and instructional practices. CCISP envisions a CUNY with a fully engaged and empowered faculty who are acknowledged as integral partners in the academic success of students, in the development of productive and successful instructional practices, and in the success of CUNY's enterprise. CCISP's mission is to improve student outcomes by providing faculty with research-based knowledge and ideas about effective teaching and learning; professional development and support for faculty and staff; student success strategies; and research to assess the effectiveness of CCISP's strategies and research fall into three categories: Centers Since the beginning of CCISP, CCISP has developed a number of partnerships with a number of organizations to enhance the impact of the work of CCISP. These include: The CUNY Academic Engagement Network (CePER) is a statewide network of over 20 CUNY universities, in which CUNY faculty from every CUNY campus, including Central, City University of New York (CUNY's Long Island campus), Hunter, John Jay, Kingsborough, Lehman, New York Institute of Technology, Stony Brook, and Queensborough, are housed.
