Mobile App Description AutoCAD Touch The AutoCAD Touch app is a free, native iPhone CAD app that allows AutoCAD users to move, rotate, zoom and pan around the drafting canvas, without relying on the onscreen keyboard or trackball. The app also lets users add, modify and remove objects, and submit drawings for approval. Web App Description AutoCAD Web App (formerly AutoCAD Exchange) AutoCAD Web App is a cloud-based, browser-based, collaborative real-time drafting application. Similar to Sharepoint, users can access and view shared drawings and files from anywhere via a web browser and mobile app. This allows users to make changes to their own drawings without having to wait on approval from their designer. The app can also be used as a collaborative resource for school projects and company events. The AutoCAD brand is used to describe a group of commercial and open source solutions, including AutoCAD, DWG, DWF, Inventor, Ingres and PolarPlot. Autodesk's AutoCAD Application Programming Interface (API) and AutoCAD Electrical is a standard commercial tool to integrate the use of AutoCAD with C++, Microsoft Excel, MATLAB and other third-party products. Senate Republicans voted 51 to 49 on the motion to proceed to Mr. Trump's nominee, leaving the final confirmation vote for Friday as of now. Mr. Trump tweeted Friday morning that Ms. Nielsen would have never been chosen for the post if he did not approve. "They wanted to go a different direction and I said 'no,'" Mr. Trump wrote. In fact, Ms. Nielsen has been widely praised as a strong leader during the administration's immigration crackdown. She is expected to come to the Hill to testify before the Senate on Friday. Republicans said Ms. Nielsen would be a strong leader in the Department of Homeland Security and praised her time at the helm of Immigration and Customs Enforcement, an agency they want to shrink to its core enforcement function and cut ties to Customs and Border Patrol. I have a Python ConfigParser file with several nested dictionaries, where the top level is a config. I need to load the config with the file name as a variable, e.g. some_config.cfg, as opposed to hardcoding some_config.cfg. The code below works, and looks like what I need, except the config is now named some_config.cfg: config_path = "some_config.cfg" with open(config_path) as f: cfg_dict = configparser.RawConfigParser() cfg_dict.readfp(f) parsed_dict = cfg_dict.get('my_module','my_data') My question is: is there a way to load the config with the config_path as the name? The section name and the key name do not have to be the same, but they need to match. A: I believe this will work. First off, I just used os.path.exists() to check if the file exists. I think that's safer. config_path ='some_config.cfg' with open(config_path, 'r') as f
