I'm a huge fan of The Avengers, probably the only film that I try to go and see in 3D, and I was itching to see the 3D version of Thor's new star-studded ride. So what did I think? THE FILM (3D) Avengers is one of those films where everything you hear about the film has been negative. The tone is supposed to be light-hearted and the action is supposed to be a bit silly, and I'm here to tell you that you can see it for what it is. It's a really fun film. The guys have said over the years that they try to make fun of everything, but I think it's more about the tone of the film, the humour and the swearing. It's a great attempt to bring a few laughs to the proceedings and I think it's a great film, but it is also the Hulk's (Mark Ruffalo) introduction to an audience of mostly new faces, in a film that is clearly trying to do a bit of damage to the entire franchise. If you're expecting tons of action and a gravity-defying CGI spectacle, you might be a little let down. It's all here, the big set pieces, but you get a lot of character and humour with it, and that's what it's all about, really. It's not perfect
