My main issue is that when I have any files such as audio cds or non-audible files in the transfer they don't show up at all in the Edius movie. I have to have the file physically put on a computer and then import the cds into the editor and then bring them into the movie or they never show up. That's just a big pain in the ass.

Has anyone been able to transfer non-audible files to the EDIUS program? > I had this same problem when I first started using edius. And then one day, I copied 2 minutes of random mvbs and it worked.

This was over 10 years ago and then everything started working correctly. These days they are almost all on my computer and I never have to worry about that problem again. So, I guess they change some setting in their new versions of edius in order to not allow that problem anymore. I had this same problem when I first started using edius. I noticed that this built-in option is not available in the latest release? It may not be possible to use J2 audio as the output, as it is a plugin that runs in a separate process and is not directly accessible from the program. J2 audio is only accessible from within edius and it does not accept normal plugin options for audio. I have this problem in both edius 6.5 and 9.15. Can anyone help me? "How To Use J2 Audio Studio With EDIUS PRO" By: Ben Hall First, the J2 audio device settings window will ask you to import the latest configuration file from J2 audio. Right-click on the program tray icon and select "Import latest J2 Audio profile".
