Tuesday, June 11, 2012 The following is an on-line version of a letter I recently sent to the Congress of the United States. You may want to print it out and use it as a petition. Dear Senators and Representatives of the United States Congress, I am a patriotic resident of the State of Pennsylvania and a citizen of the United States of America. I am writing to you because I am deeply disturbed by the State Department's recent approval of the sale of weapons to Saudi Arabia. In particular, I am troubled by a recent report that Saudi Arabia recently used U.S. made weapons in an attack in Yemen. As you know, a rogue general, Mohammad bin Salman, has taken power in Saudi Arabia, and if Congress does not take action to block this, Saudi Arabia may be the largest purchaser of the U.S. Military. This will result in the U.S. losing control over the use of the weapons we are selling and has already been used for American citizens. I am not opposed to selling weapons to Saudi Arabia, as that is the right of the U.S. Government. I am opposed to selling weapons to a country that has already used them against a targeted person's family members, and I am opposed to selling them to a country that is known to be the source of a number of terrorist groups. I urge you to, once and for all, stop the sale of the weapons that have been used in Yemen and Saudi Arabia to harm innocent people and their families. Please help me make sure that the President and Congress do not step forward and give up control to the Saudis of the use of these weapons. Now that's actually a

In Nevada, Tesla appealed the Low Carbon Fuel Standard to the Nevada Supreme Court and lost. That was a more appealing alternative to the company's ongoing frustration with California's zero-emission vehicle program. Tesla appealed that case to the US Supreme Court, which denied its petition earlier this year. In fact, in a letter to California lawmakers last year, Tesla noted that changing that program was precisely the kind of in-your-
